DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22 and 25-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boatman (WO 9836897) in view of Stephens (154). The patent to Boatman discloses the recited method to form a pipe comprising a core layer formed of a plastic concrete material provided with aggregate material in a bonding agent, and outer layers being formed of plastic material, and the method of providing a pair of plastic layers and using them as molds, where plastic concrete is provided between the layers, and the layers forming the mold become part of the structure, the various plastics recited are set forth, as well as various additives, and providing extra mold members. The patent to Boatman discloses all of the recited structure with the exception of providing a top ring mold and a base ring mold. The patent to Stephens discloses the recited method comprising providing an outer mold in the form of a pipe 42, an inner mold in the form of an inner plastic pipe 44, and providing a mold 50 at one end and another mold 66 at the other end where inherently they can be named top and base molds where the end molds are shaped generally as rings with holes in the middle for the passing of the inner pipe where the end molds define a space to be filled with concrete to form a pipe structure. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the method of forming a pipe in Boatman by providing top and base ring molds to trap the concrete between the end molds and the inner and outer pipe molds to form a space to receive the concrete as suggested by Stephens where such would assure that the concrete fills the entire gap and forms a complete concrete layer which would make the final product stronger.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 22 and 25-35 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 23 and 24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Stephens (378) and Griffith disclosing state of the art methods and pipes formed by such methods.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

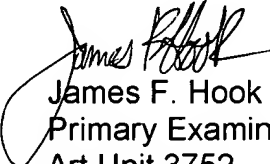

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
